MORE INFO

The process & study field of Wildlife Conservation has been created by humans to protect wildlife and natural habitats mainly from the negative and/or destructive actions of humans.

The wellbeing of wildlife/nature thus depends to a large extent on the wellbeing of humans. How well people understand who they are and how intimately entangled they are with nature, the more they will live with respect, compassion, and in harmony with nature and all other living creatures - this is the REALITY.

THE CONSERVATION SERIES

The aim of this series of five extraordinary conservation talks / presentations is to introduce the audience - from students, educators, conservationists, and more - to the latest discoveries and advances in science and in our understanding of the living world and our conservation role therein.
